

ON THE NIGHTSTAND

No Regrets Remodeling: How to Create a Comfortable, Healthy Home that Saves Energy by the editors of Home Energy Magazine. 2nd edition, Energy Auditor & Retrofitter, Inc. 2013)

This book is jammed with case studies, color photos, and resource lists to help you plan and design a home that is less costly to operate and maintain while being a healthier environment. Consisting of previously published pieces from Home Energy Magazine, this book is oriented to the home owner who is looking for help in making the intelligent decisions that will lead to money savings, home comfort, and improved safety. Available from HomeEnergy.org or your local bookseller.

The Vermont Travel Journal, Sandy Levesque, Editor (Gilead House Publishing, 2014)

If you think the residents of Burlington are home town boosters, the residents of the rest of Vermont are even more crazy about their entire state. The 251 Club of Vermont, celebrating its 60th anniversary in 2014, exists to encourage members to visit all of the state's 251 towns and cities. Now the task has been made more convenient and enjoyable with the publication of a new travel journal designed specifically for the Vermont explorer.

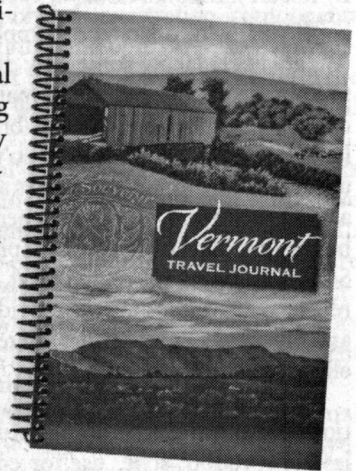

"This project is as purely Vermont as a quart of maple syrup," says Sandy Levesque, club director and editor of the journal. "Vintage Vermont postcards from another century provide the design element and contemporary lists of travel resources, such as maps, books, and websites, are included. Every element, from editing to design to physical production, was handled in Vermont."

All of Vermont's 255 civic/geographic entities or "places" – 237 towns, 9 cities, 5 unorganized towns, 3 gores, and 1 grant – are listed alphabetically, along with their charter, grant or patent date, on 160 lightly-lined writing pages. Once completed, the book will be a unique and highly personalized account of the owner's Vermont experience.

The 6" x 9" journal is a perfect traveling companion, deliberately sized to fit in glove compartments, purses, backpacks, briefcases, and totes. It has a durable cover and spiral binding to facilitate writing on-the-go. Printed on cream-colored, acid-free, archival paper the Vermont Travel Journal is designed to preserve memories and become a treasured keepsake.

With over 4,000 members, the 251 Club of Vermont is one of the largest membership organizations in the state. For information on the club, or to order a copy of the Vermont Travel Journal, visit vt251.com or call 802-234-5039.

New at Books Used prices

Green Living • Spirituality
Photography • Art • Kids
Education • Gardening
Psychology • Health
and much more...

Echo Point Books & Media Warehouse
22 Browne Court • Brattleboro, VT 05301
Wholesale prices • Open to the public
Echopointbooks.com 802 257 6900
Open Mon. - Fri. 9-5

Just off Exit 3 Route I-91

For directions go to the "Contact Us" tab on our website.

